In Cypress

That the first letter written to Santa Claus this year from Cypress found its way to the post office box of the Enterprise by a strange coincidence. It is so typical of all the little boys and girls in our town that we wanted to publish it for everyone to enjoy before sending it on to the north pole.

"Dear Santa Claus:

Could you please send me a pretty red car that I can sit in because I have been a very good boy and promise to be good from now on and do what mommy and daddy always tell me.

Merry Xmas Santa, and I hope I will see you in the stores soon."

Roy Steunenberg

5592 E. Bishop St.

That we wanted to mention the first harbingers of the Christmas season, beginning with the beautiful tree which the Thomas set up in the Triangle drive-in some time ago. But by the time you read this all the business firms will have displayed their ingenuity by window displays and decorations. Our family personally enjoys the merriment of Christmas tree in the school yard with its colored lights. We wish the fire station happened to be on the main street so that the lighted tree would be more noticeable.

That we believe the nativity scene on display at Carl and Merle's Richmond station is especially worthy of note. The figurines and other articles are over forty years old, and are a precious possession in Mrs. Reig's family. There are many more pieces to the set, but the window space did not permit for their use.

That the teen-agers (whom we secretly admit) hadn't heeded us for so long we began to think they'd all had birthdays into the next age of development. But we went over to the school house Friday night to see what this gym class was all about. And there most of them were, working off their excess energies in a most commendable manner. We're not going to tell you too much about what we saw and spoil it for your first visit. You know, you're all invited to add your moral support by visiting the classes on Wednesday and Friday nights. The instigators of this program have it going now. There's nothing to wait for — no land, no building, no money. It's a worthwhile project that has been quietly progressing for the past few weeks. All they ask is the support of the public and the parents. The boys and girls would like to give an exhibition match at some time in the future, but will need the promise of an audience. And after you investigate this activity — don't say we didn't warn you. Exercise is a mighty fine thing, and you might want to try a little of it yourself!

That you can't accuse the teen-agers of not being persistent. We hear rumors of another teen-teen movement attempt after Christmas. We can't help but believe it would be a success this time. What with two classes a week where kids can let off steam, their mischievous propensities (okay, you look up a better phrase for "pep") would be pretty well spent by Saturday night.

That we were a guest of the Santa Ana Register Monday evening, along with other publishers in Orange county. Following a meeting at which Senator Knowland described his experiences on his recent tour of the Orient, the group inspected the newly remodeled Register building. The "gray ghost," as the plant's new printing press is humorously referred to, is really something to see. It is "planted" in the basement and extends upward to the mezzanine. Most unique feature of the new building is the automatic elevator which carries automobiles to the roof for parking. And down again. You don't need to leave Orange county to see how a daily is printed. The Register has at least one of everything the city dailies have.

That Cypress is not as civilized as you thought! Mail carrier C. M. Crutchfield thinks he has the laugh on us. Tuesday morning, at the vicinity of Miller and Ball roads, he shot a coyote as he was driving along in the mail truck! Now what do you think of that?

MAIN STREET TO BOAST ICE MACHINE

A building has been moved on to the property just east of the Cypress beverage store. When properly finished, it will be approximately 8 x 12 x 4, and will have available, packages of ice. A machine will release the commodity upon the deposit of 25 cents.

The Union ice company, of Fullerton, is installing the equipment and product.

Plan Changes In Building For Bake-Shop

Changes in building locations of business firms in Cypress are being made since the post office has moved to its new location.

The Cypress hardware store is enlarged by transferring the stock at 5516 Lincoln avenue into the room recently vacated by the post office's move. Eventually the wall between the two rooms will be knocked out, it was reported. For the time being, however, a door will be cut between the two display spaces.

Across the street, in the former appliance store, it is planned to install a bakery. A. C. Van Blom is planning structural changes in the room, and it is possible that floor space will be awarded Phil McLaughlin, tax consultant, for an office. For the present, his office remains in his home at 5302 Lincoln avenue.

Van Blom stresses the point that this will be a Holland bakery.

VIRGINIA MAYO, film star, and Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz of Los Angeles, talk over the all-navy football championship game scheduled for Saturday, December 17, at the Coliseum. Mrs. James Broadbelt, of Cypress, will be a member of Queen Mayo's court of honor. Sponsored by the American Legion, proceeds go to the navy relief and rehabilitation funds.

Santa Will Be In Cypress December 24

All the kids in Cypress are invited to meet Santa Claus Saturday, December 24 at 1 p.m. The Cypress chamber of commerce is sponsoring its annual Christmas party for the town's youngsters.

He will have something to give each child as he meets them on the vacant lot at the corner of Lincoln and Walker.

Forrest Lowrey has volunteered to put up his loud speaking system so that old St. Nick can make himself heard when he talks to the kids. Mrs. Leona Murdock, Frank Stewart and Mrs. Jack Junker are responsible for his visit to Cypress.

Christmas Play On School Stage Climaxes Season

Too much praise cannot be sung for the unusual performance given by students of the Cypress elementary school last Thursday evening in their presentation of the Christmas program in the auditorium.

Much credit is also due the instructors and custodian's staff, who spent time and energy in training the cast and preparing the stage properties.

The program was prepared under the direction of the music supervisor, Mrs. Dottie Harper, and instructors Keefe, Visel and Winsor in lieu of the regular monthly P.T.A. meeting.

The well-arranged production centered around eight tableaux from a shadow box built in the center of the stage. Music by the glee club and readings by the verse choir served to describe the settings. Considerable planning went into the costuming and "props" in order to achieve such remarkable effectiveness.

Solo voice with the verse choir was Wayne Martin's. Those in the tableaux were the following: Lone shepherd, Gerald Patterson; nativity scene, Barry Coburn and Judy TerBeest; Scandinavian, Colleen Phillips and Michael Troop; French, Richard Hathcock and Kay Mills; English, Jimmy McLaughlin, Richard Kaulen and James Holly; Dutch, Jayne Chapman, Ronald Bremer, and Cornelia Dykstra; Tropical, Beverly Hovory and Frankie Barcellos; nativity, Merlin Dean and Bonnie Arant. The trio of three kings was composed of Clayton Leffler, Nolan Blackman and Paul Caperton from the Glee club.

WILL SING CAROLS

The Girl Scouts of Cypress are seeking to bring a little cheer to shut-ins this season. During the Christmas week, they plan to go caroling!

Mrs. F. E. Leveridge, troop leader, is anxious to learn the names of those who would appreciate having the girls come by to sing carols. If you know a shut-in, or someone who might not be reached as the girls make their rounds, call Mrs. Leveridge at Anaheim 6050, or call the Girl Scout Scribe, Marilyn Wallace, at Anaheim 60352.

The girls plan their tour for Wednesday evening, Dec. 21.

Two Boys Are Too Realistic

Too much realism marred the game of cops and robbers played by nine-year-old James E. Duffield, of Cypress, and his playmate, Robert C. Reeves, seven, when the latter's .410 gauge shotgun exploded accidentally and wounded Jimmie in the left foot last week-end.

According to Juvenile Officer Al Oliphant of the sheriff's office, the boys were starting the cops and robbers' game in the Reeves yard when Robert decided more realism would be added by a shell in his father's gun, which he got from a closet. Jimmie had a butcher knife. Loading the shotgun, Robert accidentally cocked it.

As the boys ran out the front door, Jimmie in the lead, Robert's gun was discharged, wounding his companion. A physician removed several shot from his foot, but others were so deeply embedded that more extensive surgery was required later.

James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Duffield, 8581 La Homa street, and Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reeves, 5631 Sprague avenue.

VFW HEARS SCOUT EXECUTIVE SPEAK FOR LOCAL TROOP

Cypress post no. 9847 of the VFW is considering reviving the Boy Scout troop here which has not been active since last summer.

Lloyd Paxton, scout commissioner for North Orange county, was present at a recent meeting of the group and promised his support and assistance in the movement.

VFW committeemen are John Suthphen, Frank Buzzo and Ted Priddy.

The cub scouts are also sponsored by the VFW. Murel Bouse represents the body in this activity. There are four dens at the present time. Den mothers are Mrs. Muriel Bouse, Dr. Al Wilson, Mrs. Howard Decker and Mrs. Vic Kogin.

Mrs. Decker had a Christmas party for den 3 at her home Wednesday, 9411 Grindlay. Eleven boys shared in the compliment.

At the pack meeting Tuesday night, eight boys in den 3 passed their wolf's test. Bouse showed two moving pictures, one of which concerned the flight of the big plane built by Douglas.

FIREMEN SPONSOR NEW YEAR'S EVE DANCING PARTY

Members of the local volunteer fire department are completing plans for a New Year's eve dance to be held Saturday evening, December 31, at the fire hall.

Good music is promised, and the tickets may be purchased at $1.50 per couple.

GROUP FROM CYPRESS ATTENDS BEACH DANCE

A benefit dance was held at the Balboa pavilion last Saturday evening sponsored by the Peace Officers' Association.

Those attending from Cypress were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kelley; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Robinson; Mr. and Mrs. James Broadbelt; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Sanders, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Essex; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Arnold; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoyt; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Morris; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Morris; Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKee; Mr. and Mrs. "Bob" Jensen; Dale Kroesen and Miss Carol Rogers, of Buena Park and Mr. and Mrs. "Chris" Christman, of Long Beach.

Most of the group met later at a Chinese cafe in Anaheim to climax the evening's entertainment before returning to their respective homes.

YOUNG PEOPLE INTERESTED IN GYMNASIUM

The physical therapy classes on Wednesday and Friday evenings in the school's utility room are meeting with enthusiasm and success among the youth in the community.

Conducting the class in weightlifting and calisthenics are Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Dean. Orval Wertzauger, of Long Beach, has been assisting them.

There are wrestling and boxing for the boys. The Pacific coast champion weight-lifter put on an exhibition at a recent meeting of the group.

Sell Christmas Trees; VFW In Two Locations

Monday evening in their meeting hall at Miller road and Lincoln avenue, members of the auxiliary to VFW post no. 9847 and their families will gather for a Christmas party.

Each one who attends is asked to bring a small gift of approximately 25 cents value, appropriate to the individual's age and sex. In this way, it is planned that there will be a gift for each and everyone present.

The post commander, H. J. G. "Happy" Kreissler, has extended an invitation to a chicken dinner to be held some time in January. To be eligible to attend, dues must have been paid for the coming year.

It is hoped that this novel idea will be an incentive to members to pay up without delay.

Big project of the VFW at the present time is the sale of Christmas trees in two strategic locations — one in the center of town and one east of town on Lincoln. Proceeds will be added to the building fund.

FIRE CHIEFS WARN TO KEEP HOLIDAY FREE FROM FIRE

A. E. Arnold, fire chief in Cypress, warns residents to keep Christmas merry by being careful to eliminate fire hazards caused by the age-old custom of keeping a lighted, decorated tree in the house, and avoid tragedy.

The following is a list of safety precautions to follow:

1. Get a fresh tree as shortly before Christmas as possible.
2. Cut off the base of the tree at an angle and keep it in a container of water or wet sand.
3. Add water daily. The tree will absorb water into the branches and needles if you give it chance.
4. The tree should be located as far away from heaters and other sources of ignition as possible and should not be located where it would block the exitway in event of fire.
5. Do not use cotton, crepe paper or other highly flammable material for decorations unless these have been treated with a flame-retardant chemical. Do not use highly flammable plastic ornaments.
6. Use only Underwriters' Laboratories labeled light cords and connections. Be sure light cords are not frayed and all receptacles are in good condition. Use proper fuses.
7. Do not use candles. In this modern age it should be unnecessary to mention candles, but they still cause Christmas fires.
8. Do not leave the tree lights burning when no one is at home and extinguish the lights on retiring for the night. Change location of lights if nearby needles turn brown.
9. Discard the tree as soon after Christmas as possible.

G. EDWIN DEMACK BURIED SATURDAY

Funeral services were held Saturday in Long Beach for George Edwin Demack of 9132 Miller road, with interment in Westminster Memorial park. He died in a Long Beach hospital Thursday following a heart attack.

A native of Lowell, Massachusetts, he and his family came to Cypress three years ago from Long Beach. He and his wife were the owners of the Faith rabbit farm.

Besides his wife, he is survived by two sons, G. Edwin, Jr., of Cypress and Julius H., of Long Beach; two daughters, Mrs. Beverly Crabtree and Mrs. Elizabeth Franzell, and a sister, Miss Emma Demack, of Long Beach.

Revue Tonight In Los Alamitos For Youth Center

A brand new form of entertainment will be provided citizens of Los Alamitos December 16. The Ben and Sally dance studios of Long Beach will donate its services for a benefit Christmas revue for the projected Youth Center building.

Tickets for the show are available at all business firms.

Next meeting of the committee in charge of the plans will be Wednesday, December 28, at the A. J. LaBourdette home, 3242 Cerritos avenue. It is hoped to apply for a building permit at the county engineer's office by that time.

PLAN LIGHTING; STORE EVENING SHOPPING HOURS

A meeting was called Tuesday morning at Leona's cafe of the inactive Business Association by its president, Frank Noe.

It was voted by the members to use funds which had accumulated in the club's treasury to purchase another string of lights to further decorate the business district for the holiday season.

A committee composed of Thelma Essex, E. V. Corby, Del Moeckly, G. E. Rust and A. E. Arnold was appointed for this purpose.

It was also decided to set the closing hour for businesses at eight o'clock in the evening from December 15 until Christmas. It is hoped that it will add to the convenience of shoppers, to stay open until the later hour.

Community Club Gives Successful Christmas Party

When members of the Cypress Women's community club invited their families to share in a Christmas party Tuesday evening the large group practically filled the fire hall, where the affair was held.

A bounteous meal, with turkey as the piece de resistance, was supervised by the committee in charge of the event, Mrs. E. V. Corby, Mrs. Leo Smith and Mrs. Roy Miller. Members contributed to the planned meal, which included the turkey plus dressing, potatoes, gravy, salad and pie for dessert. The committee had also arranged the tables and added red and green decorations in keeping with the spirit of the occasion.

After the dinner, Mrs. Frank Noe, president, presided over a short business meeting. The nominating committee, headed by Mrs. Joe Denni, submitted the following as its report: for president, Mrs. Joe Fernandez; vice president, Mrs. Murton Jones; secretary, Mrs. Barbara Young and treasurer, Mrs. A. E. Arnold.

Exchange Gifts
Donations were received for the "mystery" package, proceeds of which are turned over to the committee in charge of providing for the old men's ward at the county hospital. Mrs. E. V. Corby won the prize.

Members participated in an exchange of Christmas gifts. Under the direction of the entertainment committee, Mrs. Murton Jones, Mrs. C. E. Swain and Mrs. A. M. Collins, Christmas socks full of nuts and candy were presented the youngsters, great and small, and the editor, who did not seem to fit into any social category. Even W. C. Miller, guest of his mother, Mrs. Sarah Miller, was presented with a gift from the Christmas tree, ostensibly from Santa Claus.

Mrs. Maybelle Dyer presided at the piano until a late hour, as the group enjoyed group singing.

Auxiliary Plans Christmas Sale In Los Alamitos

Los Alamitos auxiliary unit No. 176 to the American Legion will have a Christmas gift sale on December 19 and 20 at the Legion hall, 3512 Green street.

MRS. GORDON SUTTON VISITS MIDWEST; RETURNS WITH GUEST

Mrs. Gordon Sutton flew to Waterloo, Iowa, on November 12 to visit in the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ryan and their family. Not having been in the Midwest during the winter months since she moved to California in 1927, she was unprepared for the inconvenience and discomfort caused by four snow squalls which she encountered during the time away from home.

Mrs. Sutton spent a few days with an aunt, Mrs. Eula Brown, in Cedar Rapids, her former home-town.

Following a short visit after Thanksgiving in Winnebago, Minnesota, with her sister-in-law and family, the Hugh Millers, she returned to California with Mrs. Sutton on the train. She is visiting relatives in southern California for six weeks, including her mother, Mrs. Mary Sutton, who lives in Artesia.

CHAMBER OFFICERS WILL BE COMPLETELY NEW NEXT YEAR

Cypress post office will close at noon on December 24 for the Christmas holiday. Mrs. Ruth Pugh, postmaster, and her entire staff are enthusiastic over the new quarters into which the post office was moved. They are very proud of the physical appearance of the building, and of the accommodations it affords for getting the work done.

The office will reopen again on Tuesday morning, December 27.

This is the Los Alamitos post office's schedule also.

Junior Women Enjoy Annual Xmas Dinner

Mrs. Glen Miser, with her sister, Mrs. John Lukens as co-hostess, entertained members of the Junior Woman's club at her home in Hawaiian Gardens at the annual Christmas dinner.

Served at one o'clock, the planned menu featured fried rabbit. A gift exchange was enjoyed.

A letter was read from the family in Hungary adopted by the club. Clothing is sent abroad in feed sacks, which can be utilized in many ways by these appreciative, but desperate people.

Two families in Hawaiian Gardens will be given baskets by the club. Members will donate food, and a sum from the treasury will be used for other articles. Mrs. Norville Chapman, assisted by Mrs. James Palmer and Mrs. Miser is the committee appointed to take charge of the baskets.

An attractive refreshment course followed the opening of her gifts by the honoree.

Present besides those already mentioned were Mmes. Clyde O'Neal, Mae Green, Steve Luther, Price Seibert, H. A. Kelley, Louis Wlaschin, Frank Noe, Bessie McCoy and Burt Kroesen.

G. MACKAY WINS

POTTERY CONTEST PRIZE

Gordon Mackay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mackay and a graduate from Anaheim union high school, has been awarded first prize for an egg cup design. The contest was sponsored jointly by the Art Center, Los Angeles, and Northington, Inc., pottery manufacturer.

Mackay was one of four prize winners in the competition.

Moss, Broadbelt, Corby Nominated For Presidency

Feeling that the present officers of the Cypress chamber of commerce should be given a well-deserved rest in the coming year, new candidates were nominated for every office at the nomination meeting Monday night.

In the election that will be held at the first meeting of 1950, which will fall on January 9, the new president will be chosen from nominees James Moss, James Broadbelt and E. V. Corby.

Vice president will be picked from candidates Fred Mackay, Mrs. Leona Murdock and Frank Stewart.

Dale Kroesen was the lone prospect for secretary-treasurer, while Mrs. D. L. Von Trotha and Beth Kroesen were chosen for assistant secretary-treasurer nominees.

Although each of the officers is on the Board of Directors automatically, three more are also elected. James Moss, A. E. Arnold, E. V. Corby, H. J. G. Kreissler and Price Seibert were the group nominated for the extra posts.

Jensen Loses "Kitty"

Drawing the monthly winner of the Christmas Kitty fund, Mrs. Leona Murdock, chairman of the fund committee, picked M. M. Jensen's name out of the hat. Jensen was not present, so the $36 due him will be used to buy supplies for the children's Christmas party.

Mrs. Murdock announced that the party will be held December 24 at 1 p.m. on the vacant lot at the corner of Lincoln avenue and Walker street. Santa Claus will be there, and every child in Cypress is invited to attend.

Year's Last Meeting

Next chamber meeting, which ordinarily would be December 26, was voted as a "dark" meeting, and the business will be put off until the first session of 1950, January 9.

Busy Bees Club To Give Away Turkey and Cake

In order to add to the club's treasury, the Busy Bees are giving away a turkey and a cake on Saturday, December 17. The drawing will be held at Evie's beauty shop about noon-time. Details may be secured from any member of that group.

A meeting was held recently at the home of the vice president, Evie Junker, at 4871 Grace street. Two new members were initiated, Thelma Essex and Leona Murdock. The membership now totals 24. It is planned to hold a bake sale early in January.

During the social hour an exchange of Christmas gifts was enjoyed. Refreshments of gingerbread with whipped cream and coffee were served at the close of the evening by the hostess. She was assisted by Agnes Kogin.

The next meeting will take place on January third at the home of Arlene Jeffrey, 5592 Danny street.

Present in addition to those mentioned were Myrl Appleby, Dorothy Beason, Margaret Buzzo, Rebecca Coffman, Jennie Parker, Alena Decker, Winifred Wood and Lura Coffman.

I RISE TO REMARK

by John Phillips

A distinguished member of the present administration, the vice president of the United States, Alben ("Romeo") Barkley, came out of his Georgia honeymoon cottage and, at the behest of the shadowy figures who now dictate the policies, and speeches, of what was once a proud independent political party, designated the people who do not accept the present socialistic trend as "tree sitters."

I rise to remark that I like trees. I like dogs, too, and people, and best of all I like liberty. I understand, from listening to numerous amateur baritone, that poems (like political speeches) were made by mortals of small stature, while only God could make a tree. But the vice president's comments may not be passed over lightly. What identifies a "tree sitter,"

A careful analysis would suggest the following: A tree sitter believes that a nation, like an individual, should keep its word. It should not promise aid and support to an ally who previously has jeopardized its own strength and safety to help protect ours, and then, because these same shadowy influences, in one department, favor a more arrogant dictatorship, refuse to deliver the aid promised.

Limit Spending

A tree sitter feels that a nation, also like an individual, has a time limit on spending more than it takes in, without approaching bankruptcy. A tree sitter thinks that waste and extravagance and duplication, in government, will eventually wreck a nation, just as they would wreck

A business in any tree sitter's home town.

A tree sitter believes in the simple and old fashioned virtues of independence and truth and honesty and sincerity and character and friendship and helpfulness.

A tree sitter believes that it is difficult, if not impossible, to save someone else's soul for him, or to buy friendship with money. A tree sitter thinks that the way to save an individual is to help that individual save himself, and nations, too.

Good Government

A tree sitter thinks that a nation which has survived 156 years in this troubled world without taking representative government away from its people, although all others nations have changed forms in that time must be a pretty good government. A tree sitter looks with suspicion on the Russian form, under which there is no liberty, little initiative, and less hope and happiness.

A tree sitter apparently, is just an American. He loves liberty, peace, honesty, integrity and his wife and children. He prefers golf to war and liberty and free enterprise to direction from Washington. A tree sitter would rather take care of himself and his family than be a puppet in some socialistic scheme to carry the United States hell-bent for bankruptcy.

After analyzing the situation, maybe I am a tree sitter. Hiya, fellow tree sitters, there's lots of us. 'Tis a grand group and I'm proud to be one of ye. I have a feeling that in his heart, Alben Barkley is a tree sitter himself.

A LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The Open Forum column of the News is open to any citizen who has anything to say. The only restrictions against contributions will be those of good taste and space limitation. The letters to be published must be signed and ideas and opinions expressed are those of the writer and are not necessarily shared by this newspaper.

Dear Editor:

Susan and I were rather lazy that morning up on the upper Eel river. We did not get up until the sun came over the mountain and "shown" down into the canyon and then we took a walk and played about until almost nine o'clock. The redwoods began to show and there were bits of scenery that was enticing so we just played along the way.

About 10:30 we arrived at Richardson's Camp Grove. This is one of the most interesting of the state parks along the Redwood Highway. We played about the park for an hour. Where the park buildings are located the sun never shines; the trees are too dense, too tall, for the sun's rays to penetrate to the ground. There are accommodations for some 200 camps and in the summer time there is not room to accommodate the campers but in October there are just a few of the bravest who will live in perpetual shadow.

There are many educational exhibits scattered about the park proper. For instance there is a 14-foot butt cut of a fallen giant that has been polished so that the public can count the rings, each ring is supposed to represent a year. Some one has saved a lot of trouble by counting the rings from the center out. As they counted they placed notations of the important events such as Napoleon's defeat, The Crusades, the French Revolution, etc. The old tree lived most of the great dates of record. Susan and I were glad that someone was thoughtful and saved our counting the years. Without that service we might still be there counting rings.

We left Richardson's park and passed through the many other parks that are located on the Redwood highway. Nearly every man, woman and child of note have been honored by having a tree named after them. There were trees for both Teddy and Franklin Roosevelt, McKinley, Cleveland, and all of our state great. Susan and I began to get hungry about noon so we speeded up a bit to make Garberville. Twelve years ago we had eaten a very wonderful meal at Garberville but that was twelve years ago. Most towns change the quality of their food in that time but Susan and I like to take chances so we stopped at Garberville and we were not disappointed. The steak was super-duper. The little town with its one main street situated high upon the hill side is "sorter" restful with a good view and rather conducive to the enjoyment of good foods.

Leaving Garberville one finds himself passing through many little villages and towns. The great trees are not so noticeable but the scenery is varied and romantic. It's a different world to our southland, and one does not tire of the secluded nooks, the little mountain ranches and the quaint villages. Even the people are different, they dress differently and they appear to have a more contented air. Soon we were sniffing the ocean and just before reaching Eureka we saw the broad expanses of the Pacific to our left hand.

Eureka is an old town or city, it looks old, it "feels" old. The damp air is heavy with the ocean, its lands are heavy with swamp and darkness. We were rather glad when we had left it behind us. We had traveled but a short distance when we came to Arcata where we left 101 for Highway 299 and the mountains. We proceeded up a very beautiful and busy little valley for a few miles. In the low lands there were meadows with their herds, on the hill sides there were ranch homes and saw mills and towns. Just as we were enjoying the homey atmosphere to the fullest we took to the mountains. Our highway wound ever upward through the forests and we only caught occasional glimpses of the beauties below us.

Just as we were about to believe that we were on Jacob's ladder forever going up, we leveled off and began to drop downward. Mile after mile we wandered down through new forests. The sun was setting over our left shoulder when suddenly we came to the banks of a beautiful river hidden away in its canyon. There was a quaint old village which we learned to be Willow Creek. Yes, there was one cabin, not much for modern conveniences but it had a roof and four walls. We were tired and anything was welcome.

Susan and I made ready for the night and then took a walk down to the river that appeared so near yet was about half mile distant over a rock strewn bed. We learned that this was the Trinity river and while it was quietly flowing now it was a raging giant in flood time. There were many fishermen but we saw no fish. We learned that the few fish caught were "whoppers" and really worth waiting for. That is not our idea of fishing. We love to get nibbles and a little fish every now and then. We do not love to wait for the big ones.

Anyway we did not have to count sheep to go to sleep that night.

Yours,
W. C. and Susan.

Worldwide Bible Reading program, promoted by the American Bible Society, Thanksgiving to Christmas.

Nation Joins In Reading The Bible

"The book to live by" — the theme chosen by the American Bible Society this year, is a plan to get people in all parts of the world to read the same Bible selections. The world-wide Bible readings have been listed since Thanksgiving day. Below are next week's texts:

Saturday — Psalms 119:33-40
Sunday, Dec. 18 — John 1:1-14
Monday — Matthew 5:1-12
Tuesday — Isaiah 9:2-7
Wednesday — Roman 8:12-39
Thursday — I Corinth. 15:35-58
Friday — Isaiah 40

Reverend W. D. Howard, pastor of the local Church of the Nazarene, has prepared the following commentary with regard to this important project.

"The Bible is the most widely read book in the world. As the voice of the Eternal, it points The Way, The Truth, and The Life to all mankind. Present-day translations make it potentially available to nine-tenths of the world's population. More copies of it come from the presses each year than of any other book. It is the most widely circulated book in the world.

Although neglected by many who should be its most faithful users, nevertheless, it is still more widely read than any other book. Its message is practical and timeless, appealing equally to the hearts of men of all races and nationalities in all periods of history. Through the centuries it has survived the bitterest attacks of its most deadly foes.

Our American way of life stems in large part from the inspiration of the Bible."

SANTA ANITA PARK

Racing's Dollars Go to College

Dollars that Santa Anita and other California racetracks pay in taxes should be well educated. Millions of them have gone to college—and to a great many other places. Racing's dollars, accrued in the form of direct taxes paid the State, help support the University of California Agricultural School at Davis, the California Polytechnic College at San Luis Obispo, the latter's citrus branch at San Dimas, and other State colleges.

Racing's dollars also support State, District and County agricultural fairs which have played a large part in making California the first agricultural State of the nation, citrus fruit fairs, wildlife restoration, the Poultry Improvement Commission, State Employees' Retirement System, State Relief Administration and the State General Fund.

A report for the fiscal year of 1948-49 shows that 37.22% of Santa Anita's dollars was paid in taxes to the State of California. Another 10.6% went for city, county and Federal taxes. Thus 47.82% of the total revenue realized by Santa Anita was absorbed in taxes.

The expense of operating one of the world's great racetracks accounted for another 41.64%. Charity benefited from 3.07% of racing's dollars. 2.61% of racing revenue was retained for the expansion of Santa Anita's plant and facilities. Another 5.40% was paid in cash dividends to stockholders, who are more than 90% residents of California.

A very large percentage of every racing dollar is returned to California citizens for the support of such worthy causes as their fairs, their educational institutions, their relief system and their conservation programs.

Wilsey Opens Curb Service Dairy Depot

Grand opening of Wilsey Dairy's new Drive-in milk depot on Grand avenue, 300 feet south of Orangethorpe, took place Friday.

Curb service will be one of the main features of the depot which has a 118-foot wide cement drive fronting an attractive new office building of the latest modernistic design.

Hap Wilsey, owner of the dairy, points out that the new arrangement will enable local residents to buy milk at greatly reduced prices due to the ability to buy in larger quantities, besides eliminating many expenses by buying directly from the dairy. The drive-in was erected a lot because of popular demand.

Located for 29 years in the same location, Wilsey is the only locally owned retail milk dealer in this area. His new addition carries a complete line of dairy products including ice cream, frozen foods and fancy cheeses.

The fluorescent lighting which illuminates the drive is a modernistic addition which is in existence in only one other com-

FUNERAL SATURDAY FOR ALAMITOS INFANT

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hammons, of Los Alamitos, died Friday in a Long Beach hospital where she was born.

Private funeral services were held Saturday morning in the chapel of the Dillard mortuary. Besides the parents, a brother, Terry survives.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Chenawith, who owns a fruit ranch at Beaumont, are spending the winter at the Winfield trailer park. They wanted to be near their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cummins, who are also residents there.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Russell, 4614 Lincoln avenue, and daughter, Rosalie, leave soon for Monticello, Kentucky, to enjoy the holiday season with relatives.

cial establishment in Buena Park. Although the bulbs are not visible from the road, the entire surrounding area is well-lighted, making the drive easily accessible by car.

First Catholic Church Service On Christmas

The new Catholic Church of St. Pius V on Orangethorpe near Grand, under construction since July, will have its first service Christmas morning, Sunday, December 25, it was revealed today by Father Frederick Kass, pastor.

Although the church will not be completed by that date, he said, permanent seats for 500 will have been installed and only minor construction work will remain to be done on the building which will not interfere with the service.

Confessions will be heard on Christmas eve and at other times during the holiday week, Father Kass said.

Helicopters' amazing ability is working for Pacific Telephone in some places today...helping stop trouble.

How a new sky patrol protects your calls

1. You really get a bird's-eye view from a hovering 'copter. And it's proving a big help in checking our Long Distance routes... Air patrols watch for leaning poles, soil erosion, settling earth... anything that might cause future trouble. They do it fast, too. In one test, a crew recently checked 276 miles of buried cable route in nine hours; it would have taken about six days by land.

2. On-the-spot delivery of repairmen and materials is another use of the flexible helicopter. Since it can literally drop on a blanket, it comes in handy reaching isolated spots... or when snow or floods make roads hard to travel. Helicopter patrol is another example of how we keep looking ahead for the progressive developments that help keep your service always ready to work for you.

3. Keeping ahead of trouble helps keep your service valuable. Today it's more valuable than ever... the many new telephones that have been rushed into service make it possible for you to call more of the people you want to call. More can call you. And your telephone is still a bargain in these days of higher costs. After all, a few pennies buy a call.

Your telephone is one of today's best bargains
